DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The declarations filed on 12/23/2008 under 37 CFR 1.131 are sufficient to overcome the Hubbard 20030219564 reference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 5-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by <http://web.archive.org/web/20001018225142/www.mulehide.com/newprod.html>.

Claims 5-21: It appears from the above noted website, particularly under the heading Maintenance Products, that Mulehide had on sale more than one year before applicant's present application a tape as having an elastomeric adhesive layer, of the claimed material, with a tacky lower surface and an oppositely facing upper surface with a porous reinforcing scrim layer within the adhesive layer and a release strip adhered to the tacky lower surface having the claimed dimensions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 22-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over <http://web.archive.org/web/20001018225142/www.mulehide.com/newprod.html>. in view of Mule-Hide products (www.mulehide.com/news5.html, 11/01/2001)

Claims 22-27. Mule-Hide News Release discloses a tape product for bridging a gap between modular roof panels that has a roofing membrane, but does not teach the specific structure of the product. Mulehide.com/newprod discloses a self-adhering membrane that has a protective layer, reinforcing mesh and an adhesive layer that meets all of the requirements of claims 5-21 above. Claims 22-24 and 26-27 incorporate the same structure as claims 5-21. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the tape taught by Hubbard to bridge a gap between panels as taught by Mule-Hide as Hubbard's invention has a reinforcing mesh between protective and adhesive layers and is capable of bridging a gap between panels as taught by Mule-Hide and adhering to the roof. Therefore Mule Hide in view of Hubbard meets all of the claim limitation of claims 22-24 and 26-27.

Claim 25 recites the basic steps of "providing", "unrolling" "positioning" and "adhering". As such, it merely recites the obvious method of installing the tape recited in claims 5-21 above.
